

Comfort Core™ Fabric-Encased Innerspring Technology Found Inside Every Ultimate Hybrid Mattress™

An Ultimate Hybrid Mattress™ is a mattress that pairs Leggett & Platt's Comfort Core™ fabric-encased innerspring technology with specialty sleep materials. It's a best-of-class hybrid that offers the favorable aspects and benefits of foam, gel, or latex, without the downside found in mattresses predominately made of those materials.

At the “Core” of Every Ultimate Hybrid is Comfort Core Technology

The Comfort Core technology found inside every Ultimate Hybrid Mattress showcases the latest advancements in innersprings – setting the Ultimate Hybrid Mattress apart from any other hybrid-style mattress.

Minimized motion disturbance

Comfort Core innersprings are individually wrapped and guard against motion disturbance from your partner during sleep, but still provide a critical return-of-bounce during intimacy.

Superior core support with unbelievable conformity and comfort

Comfort Core adjusts instantly to individual sleep movements. You can lie on Comfort Core without mattress padding and still feel the comfort, which is delivered from the top of the coil combined with the firm and responsive support originating from the coil's bottom section.

Coils that are engineered to last

Leggett & Platt's high-tensile coils are stress-relieved for lasting resiliency – not every manufacturer does that. Comfort Core actually holds its designed shape, ensuring the same steady performance at home as in the showroom, even after years of use.

Leggett & Platt Technology

Leggett & Platt is a patent leader in the sleep industry, operating one of the largest bedding component research and development facilities in the world – the Leggett & Platt IDEA Center. Involved in every step of the process, even supplying wire from its own mills, Leggett & Platt tests its innersprings at every stage, with strict quality measures in place.